Russians In Fierce Bayonet Charge Drive Nazis Back

Battle To Save Leningrad In New Sector

By the Associated Press
Red army troops battling to save Leningrad were reported today to have stemmed the German onslaught in bitter fighting around Lake Ilmen, south of the old czarist capital, and hurled the Nazi invaders back seven miles in fierce bayonet charges elsewhere on the Leningrad front.

Red Star, Soviet army newspaper, said that the Germans lost up to 50,000 killed, wounded and captured in the Lake Ilmen fighting, and that the Russians had launched successful counter attacks.

By contrast, Nazi front-line dispatches indicated that the Red armies were in desperate straits along the entire front from Leningrad to the Black sea, and the German high command reported the destruction of 50 Soviet divisions—about 750,000 troops—including 380,000 prisoners captured in the bloody trap 125 miles east of Kiev.

Even the Russian counter-offensive on the central front was declared to have been halted.

"Many Soviet units lost two-thirds or more of their strength in attempts to dash against the German lines," Nazi dispatches said of fighting on the central front.

"The Bolsheviks literally stormed over the corpses of the slain into German fire. They were thrown back everywhere."

Italian reports pictured the Russians in chaotic retreat in the Ukraine, abandoning their heavy guns as they fled.

In London, Russian Ambassador Ivan M. Maslky declared that in three months of war Germany has lost 3,000,000 men in killed, wounded and missing—one-third of the entire Nazi army.

Maslky described the German high command's report last week on German losses as "utterly ridiculous." The high command, on Sept. 19, placed Nazi losses in the first two months of the war at only 85,896 dead, 296,670 wounded and 20,299 missing.

Press Counter Thrusts
In the Russian campaign, advances reaching London said the Red armies were successfully pressing counter attacks in a new sector, around Glukhov, in the northwest Ukraine 140 miles southeast of Gomel.

The fighting here was described as separate from Soviet counter blows in the Smolensk sector, 230 miles to the northwest and possibly indicated an attempt to rescue the four battered Red armies trapped 125 miles east of Kiev.

Stefani, official Italian news agency, said in a front-line dispatch that Red troops hurled back from the Dnieper river were fleeing in disorder, without artillery.

Boy Kills Father And Wounds Mother

ALTURAS, Calif., Sept. 23—(P)—Bob McCain, 14, tried of doing household chores, shot and killed his father and wounded his mother, Sheriff John C. Sharp reported today.

The shooting occurred at a lumber camp where the father, R. C. McCain, was employed.

The sheriff said Bob fired 3 shots at his father. Two pierced the elder McCain's eyes and a third struck his shoulder when his mother came running to interfere, he wounded her in the legs. She was expected to recover.

Two Killed And Three Are Injured

CARTHAGE, Mo., Sept. 23—(P)—Mr. and Mrs. Stevenin of Overland Park, Kas., were killed and two of their grandchildren and a fifth person injured in a motor car crash five and one-half miles north of Jasper, Mo., last night.

The injured, all brought to a Carthage hospital, were George Bersina, 30, crushing injuries to the chest; Corrine Burrow, 20, slight abrasions and cuts on face and neck; and Ralph Burrow, 19, severe scalp laceration.

Discussion On A Shoe Factory Project

The Chamber of Commerce board of directors held their regular meeting at Williams Cafe, Tuesday noon with President G. H. Trader, presiding. The proposed new shoe factory project was discussed and plans were made to meet P. J. Parnall and his associates.

Stresses Value Of Chemurgies In An Address

L. F. Livingston
Speaker At Banquet
Given By C of C

It will not be long before the farmers' products may soon be producing airplane wings, car bodies, and residential building materials, according to L. F. Livingston, manager of the Du Pont Agriculture Extension division, Wilmington, Del., who spoke to more than 100 persons at the Bothwell hotel Monday night.

The meeting was sponsored by the Agriculture Division of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce of which Don S. Lamm is chairman. Mr. Lamm presided over the meeting and prior to the address of Mr. Livingston introduced several members of the committee.

George H. Trader, president of the Chamber of Commerce, made a brief announcement on the progress of Sedalia obtaining a shoe factory. He stated briefly the work the committee is doing in obtaining a Tober-Saifer Co. in this city. "It is the first time anyone has offered us anything without asking a big bonus for it," Mr. Trader said.

The Rev. Ralph A. Waggoner of the Presbyterian church, gave the invocation.

Sedalia's outstanding work in the organization of the Missouri Farm Chemurgic association attracted the attention of agricultural officials, and the city was included in a limited list of cities in which Livingston will speak. He was brought to Missouri under the sponsorship of the Missouri Farm Chemurgic committee.

Profit By Experience
"It took the experience of the first World War to make this nation realize that only through a vigorous prosecution of scientific research could the United States attain economic as well as political independence," Livingston pointed out.

"That research gave us self-sufficiency on such vital raw materials as nitrates, dyes and camphor. Were it not for this effort prompted by the needs of 1914-1918 we would be high and dry today, with these and many other materials wholly beyond our reach overseas and with much of our industry paralyzed."

"Likewise, the present emergency is speeding up the trend toward greater utilization of agricultural raw materials in industry."

Two Dead And Sixteen Missing

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 23—(P)—Flood waters that have severed northern New Mexico highways poured down the Pecos River valley today, inundating Roswell and disrupting utilities. Two persons were known to have drowned and 16 others were missing throughout the state, all feared dead.

A 22-inch main supplying natural gas to Denver, Pueblo, Colorado Springs and other Colorado cities was severed near Clayton, N. M., by a torrent which surged through Seneca creek, normally a dry bed of sand.

The weather bureau said rains, which have totaled more than eight inches over eastern New Mexico the past several days, would continue.

May Live After A 50-Foot Fall Off Cliff

STELLA, Mo. Sept. 23—(P)—Herman Moore, 15, fell 50 feet from a bluff and landed on his head and shoulders, but physicians say he probably will recover.

X-ray pictures taken after the fall Sunday showed no fractures. Doctors pronounced his condition serious but not critical. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Moore.

Calls To Repeal Neutrality Act

QUINCY, Mass., Sept. 23—(P)—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox today watched the huge 35,000-ton battleship Massachusetts slide down the ways of the Foe River Ship Yards and then declared to a crowd of thousands attending the launching that the Neutrality Act was "crippling" the efforts of this country and should be immediately repealed.

"There should be no handicap on those who are trying to keep away from these shores," the navy secretary shouted into a loudspeaker system that carried his words throughout the vast shipbuilding yards.

"We must waste no time in repealing the Neutrality Act." The mighty Massachusetts was launched without a slip up.

The keel of a new cruiser, the U. S. S. Flint, was laid on the spot just vacated by the Massachusetts before the bow of the battleship had entered the water.

Knox asserted that recent events on the Russian front had made "the prospect of victory dim."

He did not elaborate on this, except to say that the casualties in Russia were greater than in any other conflict in history, and that the fighting in Russia had "a direct bearing on our own situation."

Plan For 1942 Wheat Crops

Acreage In Pettis County Has Been Set At 33,916 Acres

Proclamation of a wheat marketing quota for 1942 was announced early this fall to enable United States wheat growers to make plans for 1942 wheat crops before seeding time. It was explained this week by B. C. Claycomb, chairman of the Pettis county AAA committee.

The 1942 wheat acreage allotment for Pettis county has been set at 33,916 acres, he said, and wheat growers have been notified of their individual farm allotments. The 1942 national wheat allotment is 55 million acres.

As soon as the condition of the 1942 wheat crop can be determined next spring a date will be set for a referendum for wheat growers to decide whether they want marketing quotas. The referendum must be held before June 10, and two-thirds of the farmers voting must approve the quotas before they can continue in effect on the 1942 crop. Marketing quotas are now in effect on the 1941 wheat crop as a result of the 81 per cent approval voted in the referendum on May thirty-first.

No Doubt of Quotas

"The wheat supply in sight for 1941-42 leaves no doubt that a quota would have to be proclaimed next spring," Claycomb stated. "The carryover we will have on July 1, 1942, as a result of our above normal yields and reduced exports, is going to be the largest on record for the United States."

Claycomb explained that the purpose of a marketing quota is to divide a limited market equitably among all growers and to protect wheat prices and incomes by keeping part of the surplus off the market until needed.

Since producers who plant within their acreage allotments made their adjustment at seeding time, they can market their entire production in the normal manner. Producers who overplant their allotments are called upon under the quota to make an adjustment in marketing, the same as the cooperators made at seeding time.

With quotas in effect, the normal or actual yield of the excess acreage is subject to penalty if marketed. The penalty may be avoided, however, if the excess wheat is kept off the market and stored under bond.

Three Killed In Train Wreck

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13—(P)—A heavy freight engine, running without cars, collided head-on with the crack Western Pacific Exposition Flyer in a terrific crash about 40 miles east of here late last night. Three trainmen died and 10 other persons, seven of them passengers, were injured.

Engineer Frank Huff and Fireman A. A. Low, both of Oakland, were crushed and burned to death in the Flyer's engine. Oscar Lane, 62, of Oakland, baggage man of the Flyer, died later in a hospital.

The roadbed was torn up for 300 feet, the rails bent like hairpins and the engines a tangled mass of smoking steel. Two cars were derailed and the Flyer's baggage car was demolished.

Engineer E. L. Jordan and Fireman E. D. Hillous of the lone locomotive leaped almost at the moment of the impact. They were injured seriously.

Says Repeal of Act Means War

Norris Doubtful Congress Will Vote On Entry Now

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—(P)—Senator Norris (Ind.-Neb.) asserted today that repeal of the neutrality act "would mean war" and he voiced his doubts that congress would approve a declaration of war at the present time.

On the question of a declaration of war, Rep. Fish (R-NY) was ready with the prediction that the house would vote it down "more than two-to-one." He announced he intended to seek a showdown next week with a resolution calling for immediate war with Germany.

Capitol hill's preoccupation with international affairs was furthered by the start of house committee hearings on a new $5,985,000 lease-lend appropriation and by the news that another American-owned freighter had been sunk near Iceland in waters which President Roosevelt had barred to axis raiders.

Norris, although not commenting specifically on the latest sinking, made it clear that he endorsed the policy the administration has pursued regarding freedom of the seas. The United States, he remarked, could not recognize any German attempt "to map off the oceans and tell us where we can and can not go."

For All Possible Aid

The veteran Nebraskan, only surviving member who cast a senate vote against this country's entrance into the last war, consistently has supported the administration in foreign affairs. He emphasized to reporters today that he thought all possible aid should be given to Great Britain and Russia. And he said, too, that a request for repeal of the neutrality law "would be a logical outgrowth" of the administration's international policies.

Nevertheless, he contended that

Injuries In Car Accident Fatal

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 23—(P)—Herbert O'Neal, 19, of King City, Mo., died here today from injuries suffered in a motor car collision last night.

Involved in the collision were the car driven by O'Neal and a stock truck driven by Clarence Petty of King City.

O'Neal is survived by his wife and a three-month-old daughter. The wife suffered a fractured collar bone but the baby was uninjured.

Private Is Held On Espionage Charge

Dr. Brinkley, Wife, And Six More Indicted

Accused Of Mail Fraud In Medical Service Offer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 23—(P)—Dr. John R. Brinkley, the gland specialist, his wife, and six employees of a hospital formerly operated here by him, were indicted by the federal grand jury today on charges of mail fraud in connection with medical services offered by the Brinkley institution.

The indictment cited 15 counts based on letters and pamphlets mailed to persons in Arkansas, Missouri, Colorado, Mississippi, Nebraska, Kentucky, Ohio, Iowa and New Jersey. Most of the alleged offenses occurred in 1939. The indictment said the mailings were from Little Rock and Del Rio, Texas.

The indictment names as co-defendants John R. Brinkley, Minnie T. Brinkley, H. Dwight Osborn, J. H. Davis, O. B. Chandler, A. Lewis Kline, A. C. Petermeyer, and Vera Wederbrook.

U. S. District attorney Sam Rorex said Osborn, Davis, Chandler and Kline were doctors on the staff of the hospital, that Petermeyer engaged in surgical practice at the hospital, and that Miss Wederbrook was the hospital's head nurse.

The Little Rock institution, a converted country club, was closed several months ago after Brinkley had filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy at San Antonio.

One of the principal charges in the indictment was that the defendants "did falsely pretend x x x that John R. Brinkley was a great surgeon, scientist and physician x x x that he, while visiting medical centers in Europe, had found a real substance which when properly administered would restore to normal sexual vigor sexually weak men and women."

Declare Claims False

The indictment said the defendants falsely represented through use of the mails that the Brinkley treatment would "cause men and women to live to be 100 years old."

The indictment said that "per-

Vote In Mississippi For U. S. Senator

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 23—(P)—Two veteran Mississippi congressmen today sought to fill the 15-month unexpired term of the late U. S. Senator Pat Harrison in an election in which less than half of the state's 350,000 voters were expected to participate.

The candidates are Rep. Ross Collins, 61, of Meridian, who has served ten terms in the House, and Rep. Walt Doxey, 49, of Holly Springs, a member of the House since 1928.

No national issues were presented in the campaign. The polls opened at 7 a. m. (CST) in cities and 8 a. m. (CST) in small towns and rural sections. All will close at 6 p. m.

Anti-Spin Parachute To Reduce Thrill In Drop

CHICAGO, Sept. 23—(P)—A new parachute which will prevent parachute troops from spinning dizzily through the air was announced today in a symposium on aviation medicine at the University of Chicago's 50th annual celebration.

Fright is the worst enemy of the parachutist, particularly in long delayed plunges necessary to avoid detection by the enemy, Dr. Andrew C. Ivy of Northwestern university, Chicago, and Dr. Anton J. The new parachute with the small anti-spin "air anchor" has been found to give the jumper a feeling of confidence, particularly

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 23—(P)—E. F. Swinney, banker and philanthropist, said today he had retired as chairman of the board of directors of the First National bank after 54 years service with the institution. He will continue as chairman of the executive committee.

H. T. Abernathy, the bank's president, becomes the new chairman of the board and Carl W. Allendoerfer succeeds Abernathy. The First National is the city's second largest bank with deposits of $141,000,000. Swinney is 84.

States Nazi Drive Bugged Down In Mud

Soviet General Says Losses To Germans Huge

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY
WITH THE RED ARMY AT THE CENTRAL FRONT, Sept. 23—(P)—Major General Vassily Sokolovsky declared today the Nazi drive had bogged down into mud and trench warfare ten to a hundred times as destructive as the World War Verdun.

Sokolovsky, a representative of the Soviet command on the Russian western front, told foreign correspondents German losses in the tremendous fight in the central sector had been twice as heavy as the Russians' in men and five times as heavy in material, planes and artillery.

Russian armies, he said, had shoved the Germans back six to 30 miles in the direction of Yartsevo, northeast of Smolensk, on a 60 mile front.

"Blitzkrieg has failed," he asserted, "in the sense that there now has developed something like a continuous grinding of men and material closely resembling Verdun but ten or a hundred times greater because the means of destruction in the hands of the Russians are so much greater."

He said the Germans were digging in along hundreds of miles of front and added:

"What lies ahead of them is trench warfare, mud, Russian roads and winter."

Need Billion To Supply Food

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—(P)—Testifying that England now was on short rations, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard said today a minimum of $1,000,000,000 was needed to supply England with food during the next five months.

Wickard was one of the first witnesses before the house appropriations committee as it started hearings on President Roosevelt's request for an additional $5,985,000,000 for lend-lease aid.

"Great Britain is dependent upon North America for huge quantities of food stuffs," Wickard testified. "The deficit has to be made up from this country and Canada unless the British are to lose to Nazi Germany."

Another witness, lend-lease administrator E. R. Stettinius, was said by committee members to have urged them to reject any prohibitions which would bar aid to Russia.

Sea War Adds U S Owned Ship To Its Toll

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—(P)—The sea war added another American owned merchantman to its toll today, and the capital wondered whether this latest sinking was meant to be an open challenge to President Roosevelt's shoot-on-sight order which barred the "defensive waters" of the United States to all axis raiders.

The newest victim was the freighter Pink Star, owned by the U. S. Maritime Commission but operating under Panamanian registry. The sinking took on great potential significance, for it was the first such incident reported since Mr. Roosevelt proclaimed the "defensive waters" policy September 11.

(In Berlin, authorized German sources said that while no German craft had reported sinking the Pink Star it was their opinion that whatever happened to the vessel was "in accordance with the laws of war.")

"The vessel was Panamanian, not United States," one German authority said, "and we have not heard yet that Panama is part of the United States. The vessel was sunk in waters clearly defined as a German operations area."

The Pink Star went down last Friday, the State Department disclosed last night, and she met her end southwest of Iceland. Here two other American-owned vessels were lost and the unsuccessful submarine attack was made on the U. S. Destroyer Greer.

Silent On Some Details
The announcement of the Pink Star's sinking was silent on several details—a fact which caused some speculation. Nothing was said about the fate of the 34 men in her crew, and there was no hint as to how she met her end—by a mine, torpedo, an aerial bomb or the guns of a surface raider.

The location of the ship's sinking, however, was definitely placed some 255 miles south of Iceland on the corridor of sea communications which Mr. Roosevelt specifically has ordered the navy to keep clear.

The Pink Star was a former toward a new defense line on the east bank of the Don river.

If true, this would mean a huge scale retreat and the abandonment of the great Donets river industrial basin.

Stefani added that Red army prisoners reported the Soviet command was sending reserve units southward from the Moscow area as well as from the Don and Volga zones to bolster a new defense front.

The news agency quoted prisoners as saying that Marshal Semeon Budyenny, commander-in-chief of the Ukraine forces, had been relieved of his command and temporarily replaced by Marshal Semeon Timoshenko, who commanded the central front.

Marshal Timoshenko is credited by the Russians with smashing the main German onslaught toward Moscow, hurling the Nazi invaders back after they had advanced far beyond Smolensk on the Napoleonic road to the Soviet capital.

Capture Tanks And Guns
Hitler's field headquarters, in a special bulletin on the fighting east of Kiev, said German troops slaying into four entrapped Russian armies had already captured 570 tanks, 2,100 guns and great stores of other war booty.

The encircled Reds, it was asserted, are rapidly dissolving and "at many points officers and commissars of the Soviets left their troops."

Authoritative military quarters in London, acknowledging that the Soviet armies in the south faced "an uglier situation" than ever before in the 94-day-old struggle, declared nevertheless that a more optimistic outlook was developing on the northern front.

Around Leningrad, the British said, the situation was not unfavorable, and north of Leningrad, on the Karelian isthmus, the Russians were said to be holding the German allied Finns on approximately the line of the pre-1940 frontier.

In the Ukraine, the British admitted that the Russians might find difficulty in withdrawing sufficient forces from the Kiev area to re-establish defenses before Kharkov and Rostov.

DNB, official German news agency, said Leningrad's defenders were waging a losing battle in attempting to stem Nazi forces steadily closing in on the old czarist capital.

DNB said the Russians also launched repeated counter attacks in the Poltava sector, northwest of the Dnieper river city of Kremenchug, but were repulsed with heavy losses.

In the siege of Odessa, the German high command again stressed destruction of Soviet supply ships off the Black sea port, asserting that Stukas sank nine freighters and set a cruiser afire.

The Russian government announced last night that British and United States missions, to confer with a seven-man committee headed by Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov, had arrived "in territory of the USSR."

The conference is proposed to expedite the flow of British and American war materials — tanks, planes, guns and oil — to supplement Russian supplies.

On the fighting, the Soviet information bureau said that nearly six German infantry battalions, perhaps 3,500 men, had been annihilated in a five-day battle on the central front, the scene of many Red army counterattacks.

Defense forces were said also to have killed 400 Germans on the central front — whether in the same action was not stated — and 600 Rumanian infantrymen in the southern struggle.

Loans On Corn To Be Varied

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The Agriculture Department announced today that government loans on corn this fall would vary from one area to another, the variance to be determined by average corn prices.

In the past a flat or uniform corn loan rate was used.

The department said the lowest rates would be between 65 and 67 cents a bushel and the highest between 74 and 76 cents a bushel.

The flat rate on the 1940 crop was 61 cents and on the '39 crop it was 57.

Department officials noted that loan rates now vary according to location, with most of this variation attributed to the difference in transportation costs to main market terminals.

The department said the highest rates would apply "in Michigan, eastern Ohio, and parts of Missouri, where the amount of corn used normally exceeds the amount of corn produced locally."

Exact loan rates for various areas, it was said, will be based on 85 percent of the parity price of corn at the beginning of the marketing year, which is October 1.

Secretary Wickard said the new corn loan policy "would bring about the least possible interference with normal livestock feeding operations in all parts of the corn belt and tend to facilitate a normal movement of corn to normal consuming areas."

"changing the neutrality act to send our ships to belligerent ports would mean war. And if we decided to arm merchant ships that might give Hitler a right to sink them under international law. Of course, there is a question of whether he would not try to sink them without notice anyway. It is possible, too, that he might back down, but I don't see how he could after going as far as he has."

Norris said he was giving careful study to the whole question of neutrality repeal or revision and added that President Roosevelt also should study the question thoroughly before asking that the law be modified or discarded entirely.

He asserted, further, that he did not believe the administration should seek now to precipitate a war against Germany. "If war is to come," he said, "let it come from Hitler. I don't believe he wants war with us, because, if he did, we have given him plenty of provocation already."

Rep. Fish, announcing last night that he would introduce a resolution calling for an immediate declaration of war on the Reich, said he thought "it's high time for congress to act and there can be no unity in this country until such a vote is taken."

"The American people are opposed to an undeclared war. Congress has the responsibility and the issue should be settled."

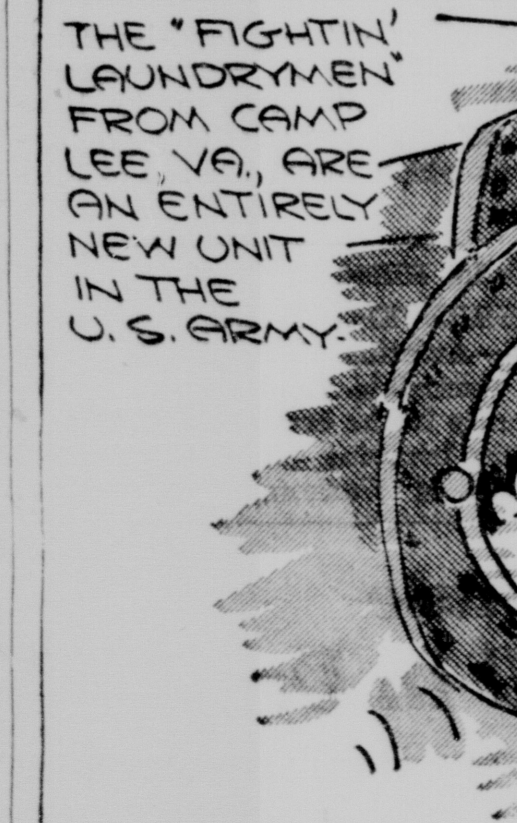

In contrast with Norris's views on the neutrality act, Senator Adams (D-Col) was all for repeal of those sections of the law which restrict American shipping. Repeal would end the bans against operating American merchantmen in combat zones, against the travel of Americans on ships of belligerent registry, and against the arming of American vessels.

Adams, however, was sharply critical of President Roosevelt's new lease-lend fund request on which a house appropriations subcommittee began work today with the first of a series of closed hearings.

Danish vessel, one of a fleet of some 80 foreign vessels taken over by the Maritime Commission recently.

The Pink Star bore a cargo destined for a British port.

Under the Neutrality Act, the freighter would have been prohibited from entering the combat zone around Britain with an American crew and an American flag at her masthead. However, her transfer to the registry of Panama and the shipping of an alien crew enabled her to carry cargoes to the war zone.

The absence of any reported sea war operations in the "defensive waters" indicated by Mr. Roosevelt led some legislators here to believe that axis raiders had received orders to keep out of those sections of the ocean, rather than risk an encounter with American warships. This view was predicated on the theory that the axis preferred to avoid a showdown that might have explosive consequences.

The Pink Star incident presented a challenge to this theory. Some thought that it could be explained, however, as an isolated case in which the attack was made with faulty knowledge of the ship's nationality or without proper orders. Others believed that it might prove to be calculated attack, presaging unrestricted sea warfare in American "defensive waters" as well as outside them.

"In Accordance With Law"
BERLIN, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Authorized German sources expressed the opinion today that whatever happened to the American-owned steamer Pink Star "it was done in accordance with the laws of war."

They said, however, that no German submarines or other overseas craft had specifically reported the sinking of the Panamanian-registered Pink Star, but added that messages had been received concerning sinkings out of a big convoy.

"The vessel was Panamanian, not United States," an authorized source declared, "and we have not heard yet that Panama is part of the United States. The vessel was sunk in waters clearly defined as a German operations area."

These sources declared that Secretary of State Cordell Hull drove America another step nearer war with his statement yesterday that the United States Neutrality Act should be changed. (Hull told reporters at a press conference that he and President Roosevelt had said at the time the neutrality law was enacted that it would be as likely to get the United States into war as to keep it out.)

Picketing On Camp Chaffee Project
FORT SMITH, Ark., Sept. 23.—(AP)—CIO members and sympathizers picketed the camp chaffee construction project near here today in support of demand for jobs in the wake of an announcement that the contractor had designated the American Federation of Labor as sole bargaining agent for workers on the $16,000,000 armored division camp.

David Asch, labor coordinator for A. Farnell Blair, of Decatur, Ga., the contractor, disclosed the AFL agreement last night, asserting it had actually been signed September 9. Explaining the deferred announcement, he said: "We have been trying to work out a plan for carrying on construction work without disturbance."

If you try to let everybody know how much sense you have, you haven't any.

Five Give Bonds
DEL RIO, Tex., Sept. 23.—(AP)—W. W. Gaines, vice-president of the Brinkley hospital at Del Rio, said today five associates of Dr. John R. Brinkley had been released under bonds of $1,000 each on charges of conspiring to use the mails to defraud.

Gaines said the five were taken before U. S. Commissioner John L. Dodson and released shortly after midnight.

At San Antonio, U. S. Marshal Guy McNamara said the five were arrested at Del Rio last night.

Be In Command At New Ordnance Plant
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Lieut. Col. Otto M. Jank, Palo Alto, Calif., was relieved by the army today as commanding officer of the Iowa ordnance plant at Burlington, Ia.

He was directed to proceed to Parsons, Kas., as commanding officer of the Kansas ordnance plant there, a post he has held as additional duty while commanding the Iowa plant.

Trial of Mrs. Wynne Set For October 6
KANSAS CITY, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The trial of Grace Wynne, choir singer charged with killing her divorced husband's second wife, was set today for Oct. 6 by Judge Ben Terte.

The fatal shooting took place Sept. 13, 1934, and Mrs. Wynne recently returned from New Orleans to stand trial.

sons who went to the said defendant at Brinkley hospitals for treatment would upon payment of $750 receive a life-time guarantee of service plan" and that other "satisfactory treatments" were offered for $360 and $460. It was also alleged the defendant pretended "more than 12,000 people had been cured" at the Brinkley hospitals.

The indictment charged the defendants "devised and intended to devise a scheme and artifice to defraud and to obtain money and property by means of false and fraudulent pretenses and representation from numerous and sundry persons too numerous to mention in this indictment and including the public generally."

October 20 was fixed as the date for arraignment for those named.

Mrs. Brinkley was arrested late yesterday at Kansas City and Brinkley was to be served there today in the hospital where he has been a patient since August 23.

Deputy U. S. Clerk of Court R. A. Culpepper said Petermeyer was serving an 18-month federal sentence at Texarkana on a perjury charge in connection with testimony given in damage suits against Brinkley. Others named in the indictment were served at Del Rio, where one of the Brinkley institutions is located.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 22.—(AP)—John R. Brinkley, 56, who has been in and out of courts throughout a lucrative career as a gland surgeon, headed toward a court again today.

Armed with a fugitive warrant based on federal mail fraud charges, U. S. deputy marshals said they would arrest Brinkley before his scheduled release today from a hospital. His left leg was amputated in August and he suffered a heart attack September 2.

His wife, 49, arrested yesterday on similar charges, pleaded innocent at arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Charles H. Thompson. She posted $10,000 bond for appearance at a preliminary hearing this afternoon.

The charges, filed at Little Rock, Ark., branded as "false and fraudulent" treatment Brinkley claimed would "restore to normal sex vigor sexually weak men and women" and accused the couple of using the mails to "promote this fraud."

The complaint said the goateed, bespectacled surgeon had treated 16,000 persons for $750 each, a total of $12,000,000 in hospital bills formerly operated at Milford, Kas., Del Rio, Tex., and Little Rock.

Brinkley, termed a "charlatan and quack" by Dr. Morris Fishbein, secretary of the American Medical Association and editor of its journal, fought Dr. Fishbein and the association in libel actions through the courts and lost. He fought unsuccessfully revocation of his license to practice in Kansas. He lost a fight to stave off judgements totalling $230,000 sought by former patients. Several months ago he filed a voluntary petition of bankruptcy at San Antonio, Tex.

Brinkley thrice ran for governor of Kansas. In 1932 he lost out to Alf M. Landon, 1936 Republican presidential nominee, in a close three-cornered race.

Move Troops In Storm Threat

PALACIOS, Tex., Sept. 23.—(AP)—All of the remaining 2,000 troops stationed at nearby Camp Hulen, in the indicated path of a tropical disturbance, have been moved to safety at Wharton, Tex., camp headquarters said today.

Most of the 11,500 former national guardsmen and selectees, principally from Missouri, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Florida, Louisiana and Texas normally in training at Camp Hulen were already miles away in war games in Louisiana.

Only a skeleton force of headquarters troops and officers stayed, and they were ready to pull out if high tides threatened. All precautions had been taken to protect buildings and property from the blow.

At Wharton, the soldiers were housed at the fair grounds.

Strong Gusts At Coast

PORT O'CONNOR, Tex., Sept. 23.—(AP)—A rapidly-dropping barometer and a rising gale that blew in gusts up to 60 miles an hour at daybreak today indicated to coast guard observers here that a howling tropical hurricane was bearing down on this highly exposed gulf coast fishing village.

The weather bureau's 8:45 a. m. (CST) advisory predicted that the furious blast, with winds up to 90 miles an hour whirling at its center, would pass inland between Port O'Connor and Freeport tonight. The center of the storm was located about 100 miles southeast of Port O'Connor and was moving this way at about six miles an hour.

Tides Spread Destruction

PORT O'CONNOR, Tex., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Winds reaching hurricane force and high tides spreading destruction through the town sent several score residents fleeing to safety at Port Lavaca today as a dangerous tropical storm approaching the Texas coast.

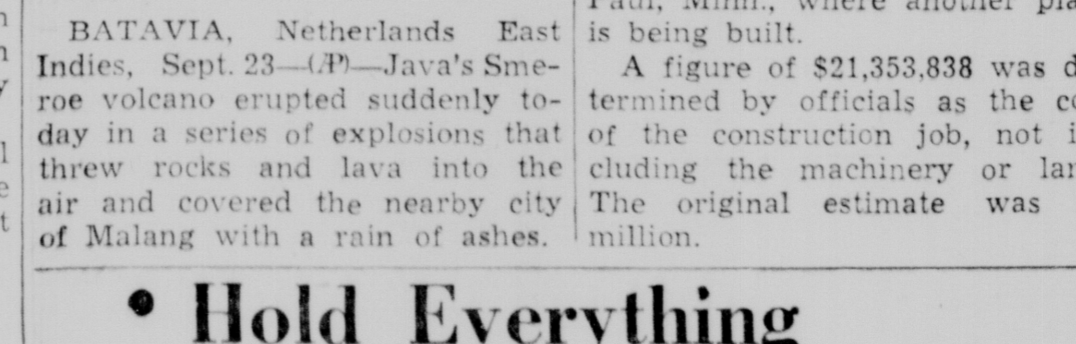

Northward 64 miles at Freeport, where important national defense industries are located, the wind blew 70 to 75 miles an hour and a seven foot tide backed water into lowlands.

Only a skeleton crew remained on duty at the $25,000,000 Dow chemical plant and at the Freeport Sulphur Company.

The United States weather bureau at New Orleans predicted the center of the storm — with winds of 90 miles an hour — would pass inland in the vicinity of Matagorda, Tex., a community of approximately 1,250 persons. Most of them had fled to safety.

Smith-Cotton Opens Season Wednesday

First Game On The Home Gridiron At Liberty Park 8 P. M.

Football season for the Smith-Cotton high school Tigers will open under the lights of Liberty Park's gridiron at 8 o'clock Wednesday night, when they meet the Owls of the Marshall high school. It will be the debut of at least eight of the team, there being but three lettermen back from the previous seasons.

In spite of the predictions of football prognosticators Smith-Cotton looks good enough they may upset all the dope of being run down like a steam roller crushing rock. Coach Jimmy Obermiller has worked hard with the able assistance of three coaches the past three weeks and his boys look fairly good for the opening game.

Band In Uniforms
Appearing on the field will be the Smith-Cotton band in their beautiful black and gold uniforms with their new director, Ralph Gunther in charge. It will be the first public appearance of the band under its new director.

Crowning of the Activity Queen
Marshall comes to Sedalia under their Coach Bill Lyons who has a strong aggregation for 1941 in spite of the losses he suffered from last season. However the visitors have several players who have had enough experience to carry their "rookies" through.

Verdict Of $200 In Damage Suit

Mrs. Fern Beatrice Schiezer today was awarded $200 by a jury which heard her damage suit in the amount of $10,000 against Roy Lemler, for injuries received in an automobile accident last July at Main street and the State Fair boulevard.

The jury was composed of J. R. Fields, Abe Silverman, John Griessen, Merl Alcorn, E. L. Calvert, R. R. Higgins, Henry Blaylock, C. B. Sheppard, Norval Embree, T. J. Pace, Fred Davis and E. H. Gregory.

Wife Of British Attache Missing

PEIPING, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Denzil Clark, wife of the British embassy press attache, was disclosed today to have been missing since last Saturday.

Japanese-born, Mrs. Clark is a British subject by marriage. Unconfirmed reports that she had been abducted were viewed with grave concern especially since she and her husband had been criticized in an article recently in a local Japanese paper.

Japanese embassy officials said their military police were investigating but had few clues.

Alsab Breaks Belmont Record

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Alsab, the bargain two-year-old owned by Mrs. Albert Sabath of Chicago, defeated Ben F. Whitaker's Texas-owned Requested by four lengths in their $10,000 winner-take-all match race at six and a half furlongs at Belmont park today.

Alsab broke the track record, traveling the distance in 1:16 one and one-fifth seconds faster than the previous mark hung up by Audacious under 119 pounds in 1920.

Predicts Shortage Of Freight Cars

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A defense research official expressed the opinion today that an imminent serious shortage of transportation facilities may become one of the most serious bottlenecks in the arms program.

Harry Magdoff, acting chief of the civilian supply section of OPM's research and statistics bureau, predicted that only 1,516,000 active, serviceable freight cars will be available this fall to handle an estimated peak load requiring 1,646,000 cars.

Moreover, "to meet peak requirements in the fall of 1942, an unprecedented car building program of a minimum 370,000 freight cars will be required," Magdoff said in a report.

Magdoff said his estimates did not take into account shipping restrictions, large scale army maneuvers, and other factors which might further complicate the situation.

British Ship Sunk During Celebration

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Torpedoing of the Canadian Pacific liner Beaverdale during a midnight party celebrating the captain's birthday was disclosed today.

Marine circles reported that the 9,957-ton British ship was sunk by a submarine 300 miles off the Irish coast while the captain, whose name was not learned, was being toasted by fellow officers. The crew was saved.

Society And Clubs

The new year books were distributed at Sorosis' opening meeting of the 1941-42 season Monday afternoon at the Heard Memorial clubhouse. Miss Nina Harris, the president, presided, and the speaker of the afternoon was Miss Lyra Ferguson of Reeds, Mo., who told of her interesting and varied experiences during a year's tour of the country when she held jobs in 45 states.

Light blue is used for the year book covers, with lettering in white and they are tied with white cord. Sorosis is beginning its fifty-third year, and many fine programs have been planned for the coming months.

The program for the first meeting was arranged by Mrs. Austin J. Hurley, chairman of the history and literature department, and she introduced the speaker. Other department chairmen are Mrs. Herbert Siefert, Art and Drama; Mrs. John M. Sneed, Current Topics, and Mrs. A. L. Walter, Civics. With Miss Jessie Blair as chairman they form the year book committee.

Miss Harris' staff of officers includes Mrs. E. H. McLaughlin, first vice-president; Mrs. A. M. Hoffman, second vice-president; Mrs. E. M. Stafford, Jr., corresponding secretary, appointed to replace Mrs. Lawrence Sibert, who resigned; Mrs. John W. Baker, corresponding secretary;

Mrs. A. R. Scott, treasurer, and Miss Eta Hurley, auditor.

The social committee for the season is composed of Mrs. Harold Ehler, appointed to fill the place of Mrs. George Bichsel, Mrs. Hugh Courtney, Mrs. Donald Davenport, Mrs. J. E. Golladay, Mrs. H. R. Harris, Mrs. H. E. Lindstrom, Mrs. Philip McLaughlin, Mrs. John T. McMullan, Mrs. C. E. Messerly, Jr., Mrs. Joseph Waddell and Mrs. A. H. Wilks.

Mrs. Siefert announced that a musical program, under the direction of Mrs. H. C. Johnson, will be presented at the meeting next Monday.

Mrs. A. O. Grishkat, of Cheyenne, Wyo., formerly of this city, has been honored with numerous parties since her arrival in Sedalia three weeks ago.

Monday morning a breakfast was given in her honor at the home of Mrs. Roy Seigel, 1103 East Eleventh street. Guests were Mrs. J. C. Perrot, Mrs. M. H. Shelby, Mrs. F. S. Henderson, Mrs. Roy Hill, Mrs. Frank Clark, Mrs. L. E. Graham, and daughter, Winnie Ann and Mrs. N. D. Tucker, of Boonville, sister of Mrs. Grishkat. Mrs. Seigel was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Henderson. The Seigel home was beautifully decorated with garden flowers, and during the morning names were drawn for a Christmas party.

On Friday Mrs. J. C. Perrot was hostess at a 6:00 o'clock dinner for Mrs. Grishkat. Twelve guests were present.

Job-Holder In 45 States Tells Of Her Experiences

Have you ever tried packing shrimp, making typewriters, basket weaving, shucking oysters or living with an Indian family? Those are just a sample of the 45 jobs Lyra Ferguson, a Missouri woman, held in 48 states in 48 weeks.

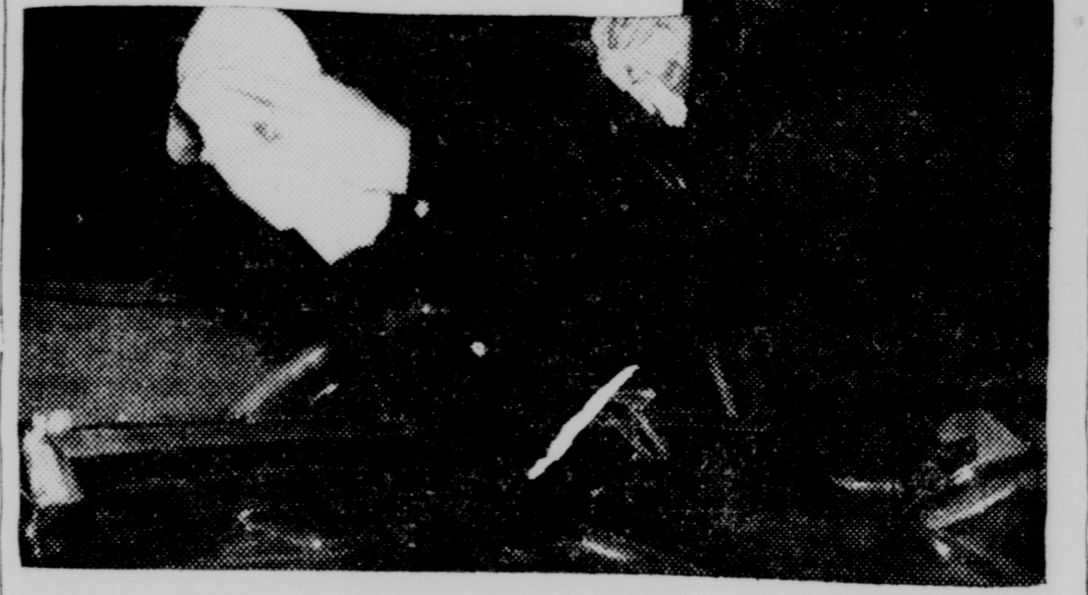

Miss Ferguson, a farm girl from near Carthage, told members of the Sedalia Sorosis Monday how she started out in 1939 with a new automobile, a small wardrobe, a little pistol and $200, and traveled in every state in the union during the year.

"Little pistol is right," said Miss Ferguson, exhibiting her only firearm during the entire journey, a tiny pistol no bigger than her thumb that explodes a

I knew nothing about when I started," the American Nellie Bly said. "And I certainly learned how the other half lived, by shucking oysters in Mississippi, packing shrimp in Delaware, tanning kid skins in Delaware and making wax fruits and flowers in Illinois."

The occasion was to celebrate birthdays of Mrs. Hurt, Clyde Owens, Mr. Shaw and Miss Audrey Wagner.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Owens and son, Eddie, Mrs. Gibbs Owens and son, Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Summers and children, Eugene, Hubert, Earl and C. W. Summers, Mrs. George W. Wagner and daughter, Audrey, Mrs. Ora E. De Haven, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Wagner, of Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. George Shaw and daughter, Marilyn, of Clifton City, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurt and three children, Henry small blank cartridge with a great deal of racket.

Miss Lyra Ferguson, Missouri woman who held jobs in 45 states while on an "around the United States" tour in 1939, is shown here working as a filling station attendant in Tulsa, Okla. Miss Ferguson lectured at the opening meeting of Sorosis yesterday afternoon at the Heard Memorial club house, and exhibited colored movies taken during her record job-holding trip.

"Shot" Movie Films

Over 9,000 feet of colored movie films were "shot" by the enterprising Miss Ferguson during her trip, and edited to 3,000 feet. The films were shown to members of the Sorosis pictures of the capital buildings of 30 states and their governors, as well as scenes covering territory from New York to California. She spoke to her audience over a public address system, while she operated the movie projector, and told of the experiences which she encountered since she left her home at Reeds, Mo.

Miss Ferguson picked up hitchhikers all along her route and made friends of all of them. "Afraid?" Certainly not. There's only one thing I'm afraid of and that's snakes. I loathe snakes."

Forced to stay two weeks in a Maine light house because of a raging storm, Miss Ferguson took advantage of all of the "pauses" in the storm to build a rock garden for the keeper. In Nebraska, she booked well-known artists; in New Hampshire, made paper; in New Jersey, cosmetics; North Carolina, waved homespun suiting; North Dakota, picked chickens; Oklahoma, attended a filling station; Oregon, packed salmon; Ohio, organized salesmanship classes.

Enjoys Unfamiliar Jobs

"I enjoyed the jobs most that

Cooking and other home chores she had learned in Missouri came in handy throughout her job searching, which was relatively easy. "I found it just as easy to get forty-five jobs as one," Miss Ferguson stated. "That was probably because of my willingness to accept any kind of employment that was honorable and interesting. I can't endure being idle."

The soft-voiced, prematurely white haired lady got jobs in each state which were most typical for that section of the country, and made all of her expenses on the trip.

Miss Ferguson's previous business experience had been as a church secretary in Kansas City. Since completing her nationwide expedition she has devoted her time to lecturing on her adventures.

Birthdays Are Celebrated

A very pleasant time was enjoyed at the home of Warren Hurt, near Beaman, Sunday, September 21, when a group of relatives and neighbors, twenty-six in all, gathered at the noon hour at their home with well filled baskets for a repast.

The occasion was to celebrate birthdays of Mrs. Hurt, Clyde Owens, Mr. Shaw and Miss Audrey Wagner.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Owens and son, Eddie, Mrs. Gibbs Owens and son, Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Summers and children, Eugene, Hubert, Earl and C. W. Summers, Mrs. George W. Wagner and daughter, Audrey, Mrs. Ora E. De Haven, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Wagner, of Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. George Shaw and daughter, Marilyn, of Clifton City, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurt and three children, Henry

Gov. William H. Willis of Vermont, left, and Canadian Minister of Munitions and Supply C. D. Howe meet at international boundary to weld pipeline joining oil tanker terminal at Portland, Me., with Montreal refineries. Line will relieve tankers of long pull around through St. Lawrence river.

Homemakers Of Dresden Meet

The Dresden Homemakers club met in an all day meeting at the community house with Mrs. William Bolton, Mrs. A. B. Cook and Mrs. Charles Fichter hostesses. Visitors for the day were Mrs. Crawford Whitehead, La Monte and Mrs. William Bucholtz.

Part of the day was spent in quilting for a member who recently lost her home by fire, Mrs. C. N. Bruce. Plans were made to take part in the achievement day program. Mrs. George Fichter, field woman for the agriculture committee gave a very interesting talk on foods which we might produce more and therefore send more to England, showing the things most needed, dried eggs, milk and others.

Committees were appointed and plans made for the Dresden Product show which will be held at the Dresden community house Saturday, October 11, from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. Lunch served by social committee. All five committees sponsoring this show.

The project leaders were Mrs. Charles Fichter and Mrs. Duard Edwards, showing patterns to be used in made over dresses, showing several very pretty collars.

Two of our members who are ill were remembered, Mrs. L. R. Purnell and Mrs. J. W. Neal, and a card to be sent to Mrs. A. J. Thompson who recently lost her brother.

All adjourned late having spent a very enjoyable day.

Homemakers Hold Meeting

The Edwards Homemakers club met Thursday, Sept. 18, with Mrs. John Rice and daughter, Naomi, as hostesses. The day was spent in quilting on a four patch quilt. At the noon hour a delicious dinner was served to which all contributed.

Those present were: Mesdames B. R. Smith, H. W. Arnett, Leland Wathall, William Hackman, Jimmie Bridges, Emmitt Smith and son, Bobby Joe, Virgil Cooper, and daughters, Sandra Lee, Clifford Gemes and daughter, Joan, William Wiseman, Charles Babbitt, Eric Waisner and Mrs. Susie Holmes and the hostess' father, C. W. Harphom of Hughesville.

Returns From Vacation

Miss Juanita Young, 521 West Eleventh street, probate court clerk, returned Monday from a week's vacation in Colorado.

Mrs. Clara Sumner of Millford, Ill., and Mrs. Lewis Redner and daughter, Lola Windsor, of Boonville, are visiting Mrs. Ida Hinkel, 213 West Fifth street.

Lewis Brownfield, of Los Angeles, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Killis Hieronymus, 515 West Sixth street.

Uneasy lies the head at night that lies during the day.

MAN-MADE NEW ECONOMY AID IN THIS OIL

BRINGS RECORD LONG LIFE TO A SINGLE 5-QUART FILL

Daring Death Valley Destruction Test gives you plain proof—CERTIFIED

Some modern food processing, you know, destroys many of Nature's best life-givers—vitamins that you need for life. But making up the worst loss today are vitamin synthetics... man-made! Similarly, the latest oil refining removes some of Nature's best life-givers. But effectively taking their place today is a new synthetic... a man-made economy aid that you give your engine by changing to

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL—
Popular Priced

Know what you're going to get out of it! For in Death Valley's pitiless desert this oil was measured up impartially against 5 other representative big-name oils. Each got the same fair chance to go its limit on one 5-quart fill, without an added drop. Each brand was locked up by the Official Referee, in the crankcase of a new everyday car—all alike. All held the same 57-mile pace, over the same desert, on the same days, in heat that would scare you out of touching the hoods—or fenders! And all were fated to finish the one 5-quart fill—to die of oil-starvation, with engine split open like a loaded cigar.

—and the oils proved NOT the same

Conoco Nth oil lasted a whole 5,683 miles after the next best oil in the test fried up, with the engine good for scrap. And all 5 others in the test averaged 7,057 miles less than Conoco Nth, with its man-made new economy aid known as Thialkene inhibitor... Conoco Patent No. 2,218,132.

Now an inhibitor is to keep a thing in check. And the explosions in any engine can't help causing foul leftovers that

AND CONOCO Nth OIL OIL-PLATES YOUR ENGINE!

Long the keystone of Conoco success, OIL-PLATING comes from another great Conoco synthetic... man-made under the famed Germ Processed oil patent. Magnet-like action bonds OIL-PLATING to inner parts. It can't all quickly drain down—not while you use Conoco Nth. So OIL-PLATING is on guard against wear in advance!... and helps mileage, as in Death Valley. An OIL-PLATED engine is one more economy you get by changing to new Conoco Nth oil.

Sedalia Life Underwriters To Help Defense Bond Sales

In cooperation with a state program for National Defense Savings, the Sedalia Life Underwriters association has pledged one hundred per cent cooperation, all members agreeing to devote one day each month in promoting the sale of defense bonds and stamps.

W. E. Scotten, chairman of the Defense Drive program, appointed as committee chairman to lead the campaign, J. T. Denny, membership; Jack G. Crawford, educational; L. J. Banner, attendance and C. M. Pressler, chairman of a committee to plan a special "Pick Up Breakfast" to launch the drive.

Riley Cunningham, manager of the Metropolitan company, spoke extemporaneously to members who met at Williams cafe last Saturday noon, on the advantages to the association in getting behind the defense drive. Cunningham is a former president of the Kansas State Life Underwriters association and president of the Community Chest Drive committee of Wichita, Kas. T. H. Yount, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Two meetings will be held during the weekend, it was announced by E. V. Walker, president of the association. A Tri-State session will be held at the Pennant hotel, Columbia, Friday evening, at which time the Columbia association will entertain the Sedalia and Jefferson City groups.

The second meeting will be held in the Little Theatre of the Municipal auditorium, Kansas City, Saturday morning, Carroll C. Day, of Oklahoma City, and Bert A. Hedges, Wichita, will be principal speakers at the Kansas City session.

Officers and members of the Sedalia association are planning to attend both meetings.

How Allied Bombers Check Japan

Allied bombers, with ranges of 3000 miles and up, are a major force blocking Japanese aggression southward, for they can blanket all southeast Asia and would probably meet little opposition from the older, weakening Japanese air force. Map shows areas bombers now at Singapore, Manila, and Chungking could cover, with Vladivostok a possible base for direct bombing of Tokyo.

Monroe Starts Special Duties
NEOSHO, Mo., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Frank Monroe, former presiding judge of the Pettis county court, arrived in Neosho Monday to conduct an investigation into defense contracts for a U. S. Senate committee.

It previously had been announced that a committee headed by Senator Harry S. Truman of Missouri would come here for the inquiry. When this committee will come here, it at all, was not learned.

The investigation will cover land prices and delay in construction work of the new army cantonment being built south of this city.

Camp construction activities increased in tempo today, resulting in Neosho's worst traffic jam since the work began. The Missouri state employment received orders to employ an additional 339 men today, bringing the total number to 2,226. Orders to employ 43 men had been received Saturday.

Late last week Monroe was appointed as a special representative of a U. S. Senate committee investigating the national defense program relative to reported excessive costs in various projects. The appointment was made by Sen. Truman, who is chairman of the committee.

Want to know HOW...?

There's a book of instructions on how to be a dictator, in case anybody WANTS to be an international leper. The book is called "Mein Kampf," and Adolph Hitler is the author.

He says that to be a dictator you have to USE PROPAGANDA, and he tells how to use it. He says the important thing is to block out everything but the CENTRAL IDEA in the minds of the masses. He says it doesn't matter whether the central idea is the truth or a lie—if it's told to us often enough, we (the "Masses") believe it.

Most of us think we're a little too smart for that. But whether we are or not, what puts a crimp in his system, as far as this country is concerned, is that he CAN'T block the truth out of people's minds by screaming lies or half truths.

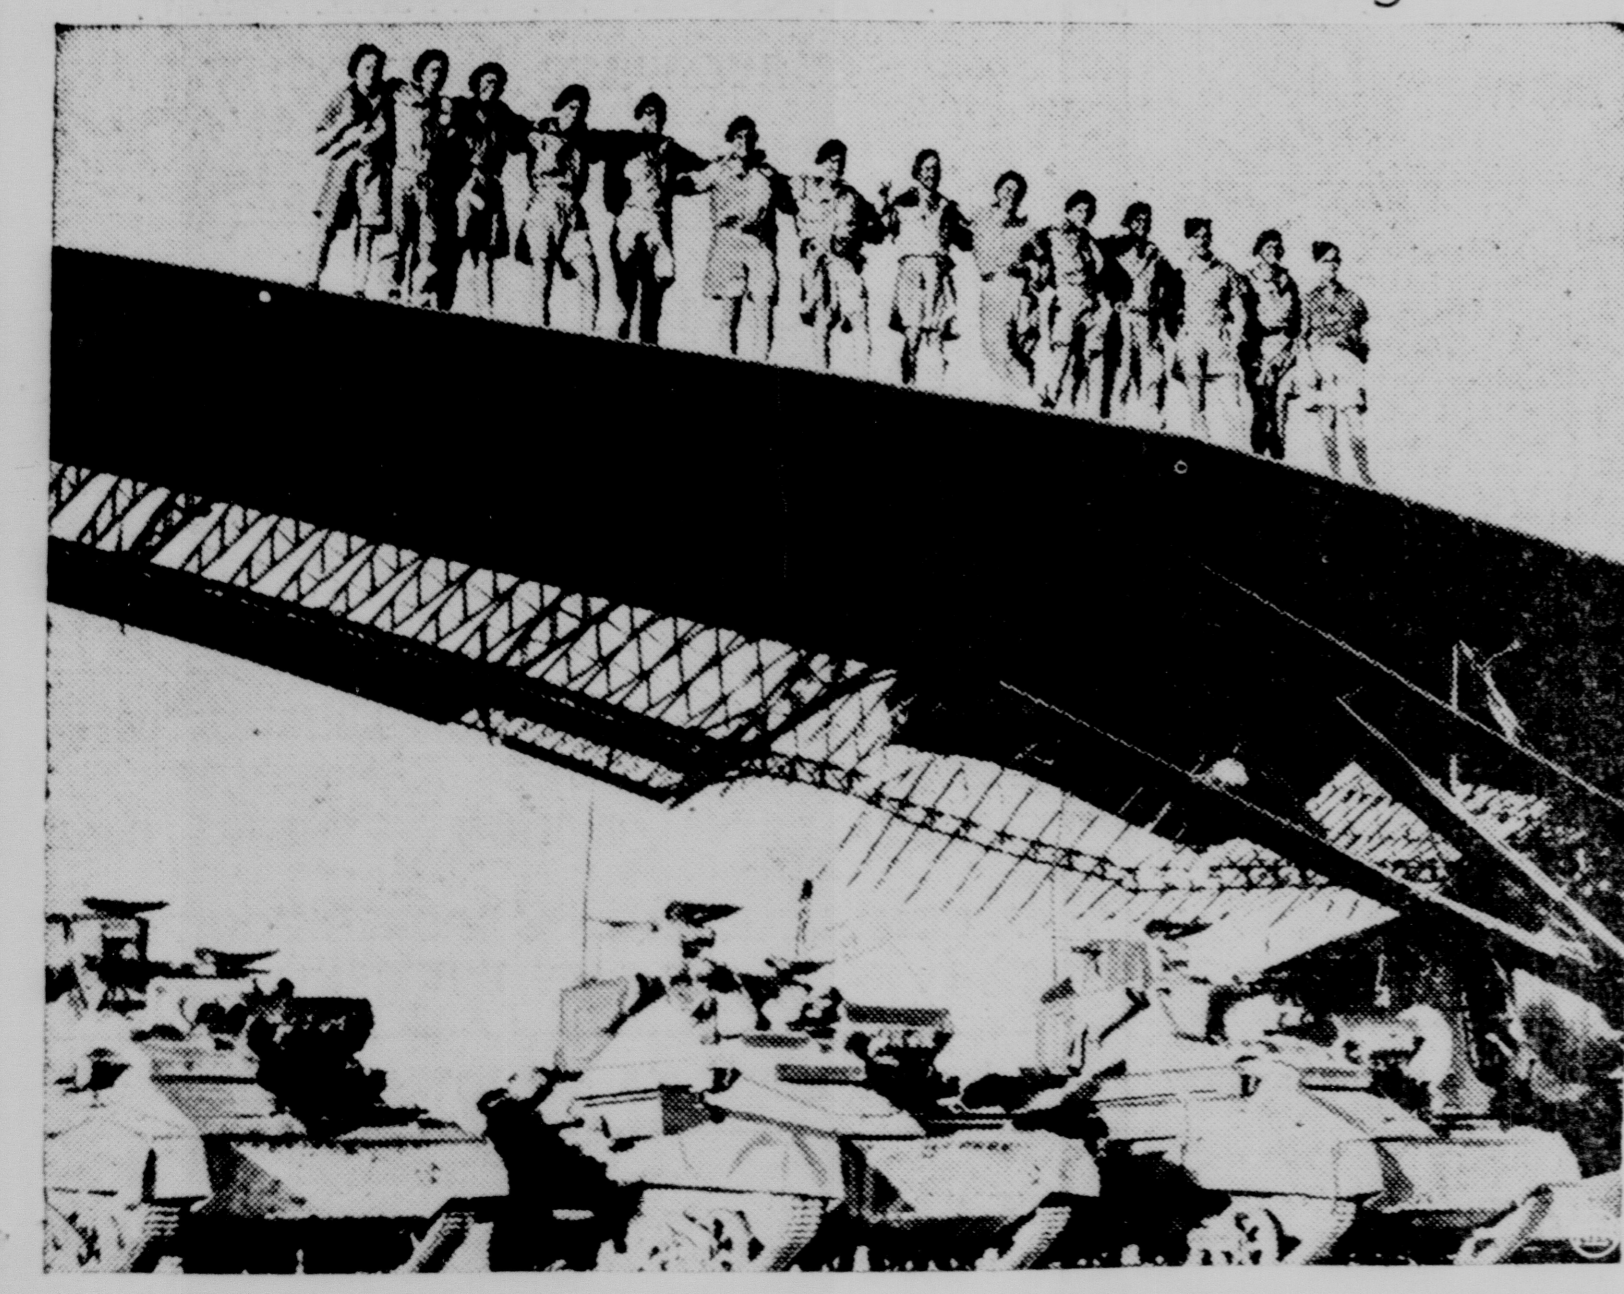

Hitler has a controlled press—newspapers that spread lies or withhold the truth, just as he tells them. American newspapers don't work that way. Their job is to give the people FACTS, not a dictator's phony "central idea."

American newspapers report what our government is DOING, not what some propaganda chief ORDERS them to say. They give us news—facts that make it possible for us to govern ourselves. They give us advertising facts, too, so that we can get the best values for our money.

It wasn't just to fill up space that the founders of this nation guaranteed us a free press in the Bill of Rights. They knew that as long as we have free speech—and a chance to print it—nobody in this country is EVER going to learn to be a dictator.

Over 320 of America's leading newspapers are carrying this message today to their 10 million subscribers. Newspaper Publishers Committee, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York.

WASHINGTON — Chief question being asked of the Senate's investigation of Hollywood are: Who is really behind it? Who persuaded a subcommittee to proceed with an unauthorized probe?

The Senators who introduced the resolution, Nye and Clark, admit that they haven't seen the movies which they are criticizing. Yet they are armed with a great mass of data which someone must have dug up for them. The other members of the subcommittee also admit they haven't seen the alleged propaganda pictures. And the Senate as a whole rejected the investigation and declined to appropriate any money for it.

But despite all this, five senators are going ahead anyway, spending considerable money and even more time to stage a solemn investigation of Hollywood.

Senators are famous for their laziness. They don't go looking for extra work. Obviously someone coked them up.

The answer to this mystery has for some time been in the hands of Wendell Willkie, counsel to the picture industry. But he has no right of cross-examination, and so far this has prevented his making public the solution.

However, he has significant evidence that for several weeks the America First Committee has had a group of research people busy in New York studying the movies and radio programs. They have been working under the direction of John T. Flynn, head of the New York America First Committee. And one research worker hired to listen in on radio programs was Guy Juneman, a henchman of the famous Joe McWilliams, Christian Front leader in New York. These were the people who dug up part of the dope for the senators.

Hollywood Ghosts

But even more important than this New York group has been the little group of ghosts in Los Angeles, who helped inspire the present Senate investigation. Its members include:

G. ALLISON PHELPS—Los Angeles radio commentator and author of the "Tower of Babel," a booklet scathingly critical of Hollywood.

RUSSELL MACK—(real name Mahoney) a former motion picture scenario writer, who visited Germany shortly before the war started.

WINFIELD SHEEHAN—husband of the famous opera singer, Jeritza. Sheehan was a producer for Shirley Temple and Will Rogers.

Sheehan had some lucky breaks—and some unlucky ones. He was lucky enough to be with 20th Century and Fox just at the time Shirley Temple and Will Rogers were in their heyday. But on the other hand, he had no success whatsoever with Alice Faye, who went over big only after Sheehan left 20th Century.

Subsequently for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer he produced "Florian," supposed to be the story of his wife, Jeritza, with the plot laid in a Spanish riding school in Vienna. The film was a flop, and Sheehan has been down on Hollywood leaders ever since.

For more than a year these three men have been collaborating in attacks—some public, some behind the scenes—on the motion picture industry.

Most of the out-in-front fighting has been done by G. Allison Phelps in his daily broadcasts. However, the man behind him was Russell Mack (Mahoney) and the man behind Mack in turn was Winfield Sheehan.

Last summer G. Allison Phelps, the Los Angeles radio commentator, went to Washington. There he hung out at the office of isolationist Senator Reynolds, of North Carolina, and conferred at length with the isolationist senators who now have turned up on the subcommittee investigating motion pictures.

Returning to Los Angeles, Phelps boasted over the radio that he had accomplished big things in Washington. And sure enough, on August 1, Senator Clark, of Missouri, introduced a resolution demanding an investigation of Hollywood. Two days later, Phelps in his radio broadcast commented on the Clark resolution as follows:

"And now, friends, this is but the beginning. I wish I could read you the letters I have received within the last two weeks from certain senators bearing on the investigation. I wish I could read to you one telegram I received from Senator Charles W. Tobey (now on the investigating committee). This is but the forerunner of the congressional investigation of the entire motion picture industry."

Mr. Phelps had gone to town in Washington.

Hollywood Comes To Washington

Real showdown on the alleged $100,000 fee

Willkie is said to be getting from the movie industry is that he did not talk fee in advance. At first he refused to take the case because he hadn't time to prepare it, finally consented but said the fee would depend on how much time the hearings took. . . . Movie moguls have wisecracked that they might pay Willkie with the proceeds from one anti-Nazi propaganda film. If so he would get far more than $100,000. Contrary to the impression spread by the Senate committee, these films make real dough. That, say the moguls, is why they produce them.

Isolationist senators gave it out that Nick Schenck, of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, shunned an appearance before their committee. Schenck is probably the biggest force in Hollywood, produced "Escape" and some of the biggest money-makers among the anti-Nazi films. Actually he has been itching to get on the witness stand, but the Senate committee stalled for time, allegedly to let Senator Curley Brooks go to the American Legion convention.

James Twohey's weekly Analysis of Newspaper Opinion shows that about 90 percent of the newspaper editorials planned the Senate for investigating the movies—Ninety-three percent of the newspapers also were critical of Lindbergh for blaming the trend to war on the Jews.

Merry-Go-Round

First thing OPM chiefs did when hard-boiled Price Administrator Leon Henderson became an OPM executive in the recent shake-up was to put under his jurisdiction the auto, paper pulp and machine tool industries, all subjects of hot controversy. Henderson's reply was, "The tougher they are the better I like 'em". . . . Smoking is prohibited in the Senate chamber but that doesn't prevent South Carolina's "Cotton Ed" Smith from enjoying his tobacco. He loads up with a huge wad and chews furiously during sessions, spitting carefully into a spittoon placed especially at his desk. . . . Although Floyd Odlum is a leading Wall Streeter, his strongest backers as head of the new OPM Division for Contract Distribution were inner circle New Dealers.

Test for Pan Americanism

The United States should rally immediately and strongly behind Mexico's proposal for a collective Pan American effort to end the two-month border war between Peru and Ecuador. This is a test of practical Pan Americanism. We peoples of the western hemisphere have made a great ado about the peaceful settlement of disputes. Do we mean what we say?

The war now shaking the world is primarily about this one thing: shall 500 years of effort to find ways of peacefully settling international disputes be junked by every militarist who sees a chance to get what he wants by force?

The free peoples of the world say no. Blood is being poured out to back up that no. But in the meantime, since July 5, bloody fighting along the Peru-Ecuador border has been breaking out every week or so because the machinery for adjustment of the dispute has not functioned.

It is good to see Mexico take the lead in this matter by calling for joint action by all the American nations. It will not be possible to suggest now that the United States is trying to bullyrag any small American nations into any course. The United States can and should join now with Mexico, Argentina and Brazil in a dynamic effort to bring reason and good sense to bear on the Peru-Ecuador situation. The United States has only the friendliest feeling toward both countries and both peoples. It is not pre-judging the case, and it will not be greatly influenced by floods of hysterical propaganda which have come from the south. It is not a question of who is right. It is a question of what means shall be adopted to show who is right.

In a world which has relapsed into the law of the jungle in international affairs, the American nations must keep one area of the world under the law of reason and civilization; we have a duty to keep a torch of sanity alight in a world which has progressively darkened for 10 weary years.

The United States wants to exert no Colossus-pressure on two small South American nations. But it should and must join emphatically with the other Pan American countries which are pledged to peace to exert a united pressure on both countries, first, to establish a temporary boundary and stop the fighting, and second, to set in motion arbitration or other machinery for the permanent healing of this sore spot on the body of an otherwise healthy western hemisphere.

• Looking Backward

• forty years ago . . .

At its regular meeting last night, the city council voted to terminate the city's contract with the Sedalia Railway, Light and Power company, for lighting the streets of the city, on the ground that the contract is void and that the charges are in excess of what the city can afford to pay.

The Standard Telephone company's line, connecting Sedalia with Warsaw, was out of service today, and repair men were at work tracing down the cause of the interruption. It was thought that a tree probably fell on the wire somewhere between the two cities.

At a meeting of the socialists held last night at their hall on East Third street, a committee was appointed to make arrangements for the socialist state convention here October 19. Members of the committee are: James Knaus, J. O. Fisher, P. S. Jamerson, D. Lindsay and F. N. Cunningham.

The Fourth quarterly conference of the Fifth Street M. E. Church South, was held last night at the edifice, Rev. Joseph King, of Nevada, presiding elder of the Clinton district, presiding. Elected stewards for the ensuing year are: E. W. Shultz, Charles B. Rodes, Lon V. Ware, George W. Lemon, Frank Holcroft, William Ricks and Thomas J. Brown.

Better than a dozen hankies
for opening STUFFY NOSTRILS

What's the use of soiling so many hankies, trying to blow mucus out of congested nostrils? It only piles up the laundry bill. And remember, a lot of violent blowing only makes your nose more sore, red, unsightly, and it very often injures the delicate membranes.

A more economical and gentler way to relieve congestion in your nostrils due to a cold is to insert a little Mentholatum.

This delightful ointment will soon break up congested mucus, relieve the smothery feeling, and permit you to breathe normally through the nose. It also relieves sniffing, sneezing, swelling, soreness, and redness.

Mentholatum helps in so many ways that you should always remember this: For cold discomforts—Mentholatum. Link them together in your mind. Jars, tubes 30c.

To Reinstate Ones Rejected On Their Jobs

Army Standards Higher Than For Civilian Demands

Selective Service registrants who are rejected at army induction centers because they do not meet army physical standards should be reinstated in their former jobs, it was announced through the Sedalia office by Lieutenant Colonel Claude C. Earp, state director of selective service, requesting all local boards to utilize every facility at their disposal to aid these men.

Pointing out that the Selective Training and Service Act requires former employers to reinstate men inducted into the nation's armed forces who satisfactorily complete their military training, Colonel Earp asserted that employers likewise have a moral obligation to reinstate former employees who were not actually inducted but who had patriotically answered a call for service.

Fulfills Obligation

"A man who responds to the call for military training is fulfilling his obligation to his country," he said. When, for some reason beyond his control, he cannot be inducted into the nation's armed forces, he must be considered as having discharged his responsibility under the law and should be protected in doing so. Every effort must be made to prevent hardship in such cases."

The director emphasized that the mere fact that a selectee has been rejected by the army does not mean that he is physically unfitted for his civilian occupation. Army standards, he pointed out, are very exacting due to requirements of the training program and the possible hospitalization or pensions for those who break down. For those reasons, he iterated, only a comparatively small percentage of eligibles can qualify for induction.

While State Selective Service headquarters is advised that most Missouri employers are reinstating rejected selectees in their former jobs, the director said, the Selective Service system wants to make certain that none are treated unjustly. Reemployment committees soon to be affiliated with Missouri local boards, he announced, will aid rejected selectees as assiduously as they assist returning soldiers to obtain employment.

Warning To Registrants

Missouri local boards have also been instructed by the director to warn all registrants ordered to report for induction to arrange their affairs so as to prevent undue personal hardship should they be rejected at army induction centers.

Local boards, he said, should advise registrants that when they are notified of their call they should point out to their employers the possibility that they may not be accepted at the induction center.

"The employer can then be prepared to replace the man if he is accepted," Colonel Earp asserted, "or to continue his employment if he is rejected."

The director also suggested that any selectee who is rejected by the army, immediately notify his employer of the rejection.

Officer Kills Moberly Man

MOBERLY, Mo., Sept. 23.—(P)—Vernon Truby, about 35, was shot dead at his home last night by Night Chief of Police J. P. Mize who said he fired in self defense as Truby lunged at him. Earlier Patrolman Will Price, answering a peace disturbance call at the Truby home, said Truby was intoxicated, threatened him with a gun and refused to submit to arrest.

Other officers called by Price surrounded the home and planned to use tear gas to force Truby's arrest.

Mize said he had gone to the back of the home when Truby came out on his back porch. The night chief said Truby ignored two calls to surrender then lunged at him. As Truby lunged, Mize said, he fired twice. One bullet struck Truby in the heart and another in the shoulder.

Declares French In Latent Revolt State

Severe Air Raid Precautions In Paris

PARIS, Occupied France, Sept. 23.—(P)—Severe air raid precautions in Paris and vicinity were ordered by the Germans today in big front page boxes in all morning papers. Included in the order are provisions against explosive, incendiary and gas bombing.

Whether the Germans had any actual tip the RAF would extend its operations to Paris was not disclosed.

Miss Olive Lee Ashbrook, daughter of Homer Ashbrook and the late Mrs. Emma McElfresh Ashbrook, became the bride of Ernest H. Ware, of Kansas City, in a marriage performed at 7:46 o'clock Saturday evening by the Rev. A. W. Kokendoffer, pastor of the First Christian church.

Mrs. Ernest Ware

The bride was attended by her aunt, Mrs. Lou Morpew, and her father, Homer Ashbrook, stood with the groom. Her brother, Homer Dempsey Ashbrook, attended the nuptials.

The bride wore a blue crepe dress and her flowers were gardenias. The couple will reside in Kansas City where Mr. Ware is employed.

Anti-Spin Parachute To Reduce Thrill In Drop

speeds of more than 150 miles an hour in five separate leaps.

How It Works

As a result, the two scientists concluded:

1. Except in flights as fast as would be experienced in a jump from a descending dive bomber, there is no appreciable effect on heart rate and blood pressure.

2. A fleeting mental black-out occurs shortly after the jerk of the riser straps caused by the chute opening. Otherwise in a calm and unfrightened jumper, mental reactions are clear, rapid and normal.

3. The same difficulty in hearing was found as in standing in a high wind. Vision was not impaired when goggles were worn; the eyes watered without goggles.

4. There was no feeling of nausea even in spinning, because of the brevity of the time. (The longest drop was 16,500 feet at 158 miles an hour, which consumed 71 seconds.)

5. Contrary to the findings of Dr. H. G. Armstrong of the U. S. Army, there was no sensation of floating in space when the eyes were closed. Starnes said he "felt that he was falling, and falling rapidly."

The anti-spin parachute was made under the direction of Starnes, 36-year-old veteran of 16 years' flying, and furnished him by Dr. Louis R. Krasno of Northwestern University Medical school and his father, Dr. Morris Krasno.

Starnes said today he would make a 35,000-foot scientific jump in Chicago within three weeks but without the new chute. He said he believed it important to an investigation of jumps from the stratosphere to obtain physical and psychological reactions from his free falling body during the long and rapid descent without the aid of such a parachute.

The 35,000 foot jump, he said, would be the first in the United States from such a height during which he would fall 180 miles an hour in the higher altitudes, diminishing to 130 or 140 miles an hour before opening his parachute 2,000 feet above the ground.

Scientific research is responsible for more improvement in living conditions in the United States than any other thing," said the Du Pont agricultural engineer. "The results have benefited agriculture, industry and consumers alike. Nearly everything we use nowadays is touched by chemistry. Living conditions are being revolutionized."

Exhibits Products

He exhibited numerous chemical products of recent origin. Flameproof textile fabrics, plastic rods that conduct light around corners, and a new cream which forms an invisible glove over the hands for protection against paint, grease and stains, were demonstrated.

275,000,000 Pounds Used

More than 275,000,000 pounds of farm products were consumed by the Du Pont company last year, he said, while 40 per cent of the company's sales were of manufactured products not in existence only a dozen years ago, but which since have been created by research.

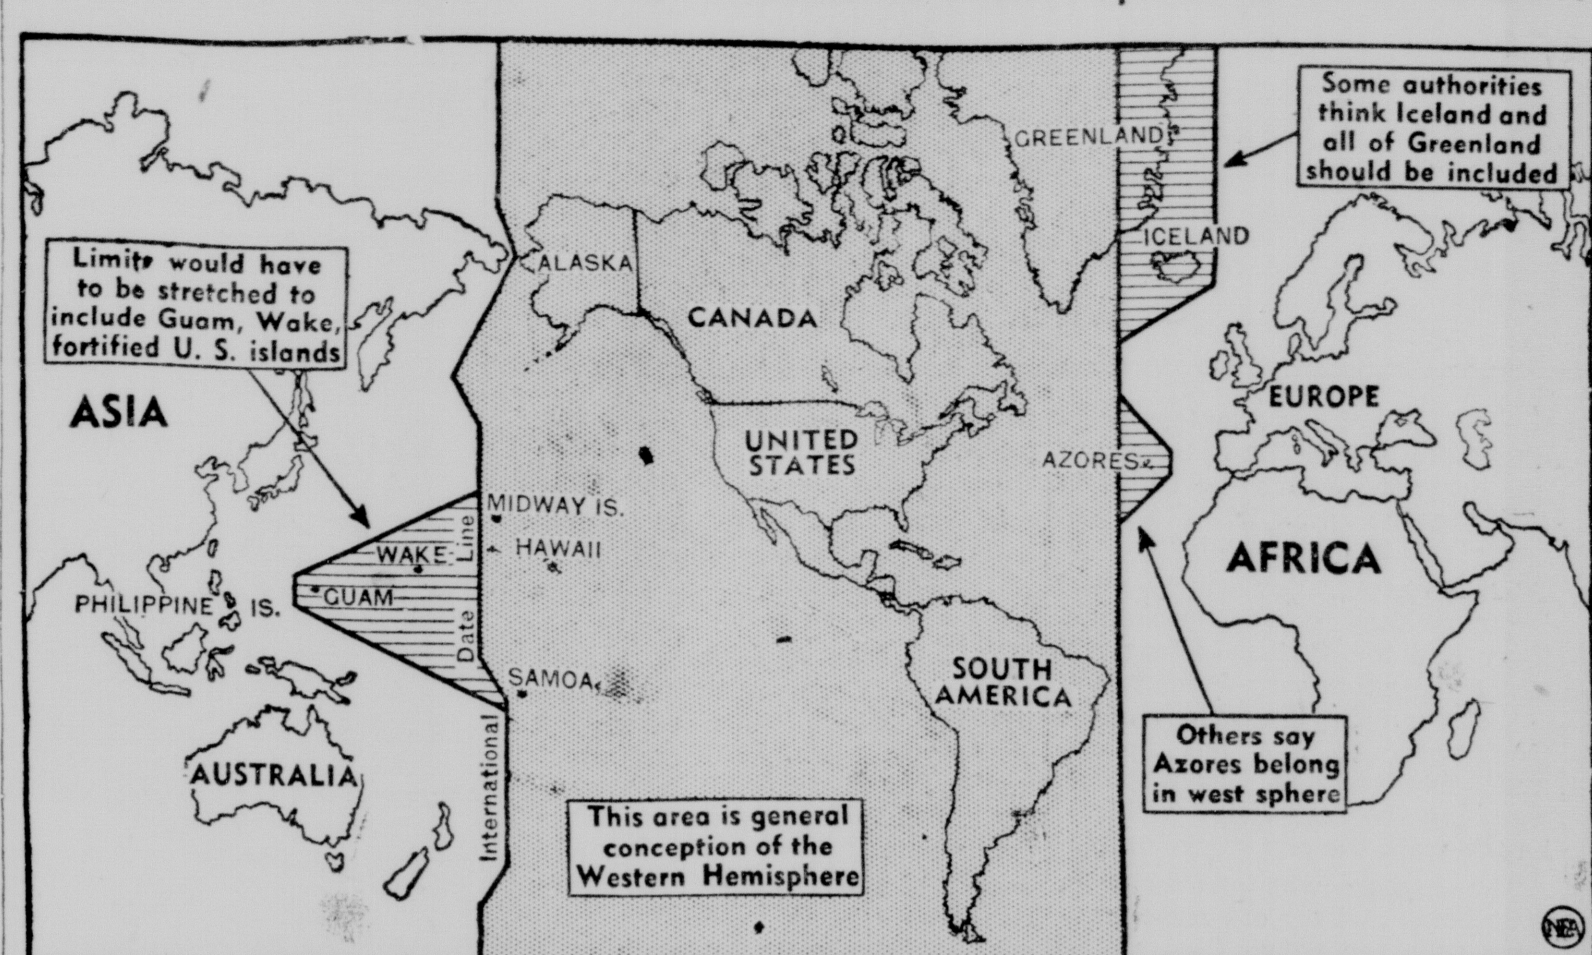

"The American chemical industry," he said, "has prospered in good and bad times alike, because it has had the courage to spend money to find ways of producing more and better goods for less money."

A similarly constructive approach to the problems of farming will increasingly produce better varieties of grains and fruits, improved farm machinery, control of soil-borne diseases, breeding of higher production animals, and more efficient pest-control measures that will save growers millions of dollars now being lost.

Factory Stomach Hungry

"There is no limit to the factory stomach to be fed by the farm," he said in conclusion. "The partnership between the farmer and the manufacturer is a close one, much closer now than most of us realize. And as we fill the arsenals in the struggle to hold our freedom, the farmer can see perhaps a quarter of a century's normal advance toward a new and more prosperous era telescoped into a few years."

Just Where DOES This Western Hemisphere Leave Off?

Proposals in Congress to restrict U. S. armed forces to the western hemisphere have made its geographical definition a knotty problem. Large shaded area shows general conception of its bounds, but not until it achieved irregular limits of additions shown would the western hemisphere actually include half of the world's area.

Off To Wreckage Of Big Bomber

By Arthur E. Burgess

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 23.—(P)—Two large rescue parties headed up Mount Constance in the Olympics today toward the spot where aerial searchers sighted the scattered wreckage of a twin-motored bomber.

Six men were aboard the eight-year-old ship when it vanished before dawn two weeks ago today. The aerial discoverers yesterday could see no sign of life on the rocky mountain face.

Major H. H. Pennington, who was in one of the two planes which sighted the wreckage, told newsmen:

"The bomber apparently hit against the stone-faced peak of the mountain range about 10 feet from the top, then slid down a few feet to the edge of a 500-foot sheer cliff and fell over the cliff into a small ravine. It might have exploded just before going over the ledge."

"There was less left of the bomber from what we could see from the air than of the one that crashed near Morton last winter."

Off To Wreckage Of Big Bomber

(This crash killed seven men last January.)

Two searching parties left McChord Field and Fort Lewis, one of 25 men and the other 20 men and 16 mules. Forest rangers and game wardens familiar with the region also were recruited.

To reach 7,700-foot Mount Constance, the searchers must travel a dozen miles up a mountain road to reach the mountain trail, itself a five hour grind under favorable conditions.

Major Pennington said there was no sight of a trail near where the wreckage was sighted, and estimated a day or more would be required for trail blazing through trees and over rocks to the crash scene.

Serial Story

Bride From the Sky

By HELEN WILSHIMER

Copyright, 1941, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: The telephone bell in Judy Allen's apartment rings insistently as she leaves it for the last time, but she does not answer. With her is handsome, dependable Philip Rogers, attorney for the magazine of which she is an associate editor. She knows who is calling—Sandy Ammerman, darling, impulsive aviator. Judy decided her intense interest in Sandy was only insatiation when newspaper stories linked him romantically with heiress Peg Gordon. Only question mark left in Judy's now well-organized life is her secretary, Sara Fuller, jealous of Judy and obviously disloyal.

AN INTRUDER ARRIVES

CHAPTER XIII

THE telephone bell pursued Judy and Philip down two flights of stairs, pealing steadily as though whoever was calling intended to remain at his end of the phone until somebody came home to answer.

"It may be important," Judy suggested.

"Couldn't be. I'm not on the other end of the line," Phil answered. His voice was gay but his eyes were deeper, more serious than usual. "Anyway, you've a train to catch."

Noting this, Judy suddenly introduced a new note into the conversation.

"Phil, my darling, you may be the best buy on the market, but there's one word we aren't having said when we stand together before the preacher. The word is 'obey.' It's too mid-Victorian. You think so, too, don't you, down under your liver or appendix or somewhere?"

Phil's laughter was clear and ringing. He reached for her with strong arms, pulled her to him, and kissed her firmly, almost demanding. For the moment she forgot Sandy. As he released her she smiled more radiantly than she had for days. Phil was sweet. And devoted. And masterful. Maybe being married to him would be more fun than she had suspected.

"I never knew 'obey' ever was used in marriage ceremonies," Phil said. "You call your minister and tell him to cross it out."

"He knows better, but I'll warn him," she agreed. "Some women—the kind who want to put up a good front before agreeing to share a man's name and doorway—think it makes a man happy to have his pet poodle run when ever he throws a stick. If a woman doesn't serve tapioca pudding because she likes to please her husband, what's the sense in coercing her into it? He'd get better meals at his club."

Their conversation was gay and happy as they rode to the station. They had the taxicab driver roll his cab onto the ferry which would carry them to the Erie station. Once on board, they left the cab and stood at the boat's stern, watching the high lights of Manhattan walk the sky in cyclorama.

The harbor was strewn with little boats and far out some warships rode the waves.

JUDY looked at the high lighted canyon whose walls were lower New York, listened to the three musicians, who had come on board to play old songs and collect pennies and nickels. Because she knew she could never return this way with the freedom and gaiety which she was taking with her, she felt lonely and clung more tightly to Philip's arm.

Obeys was a word one neither put in a marriage ceremony nor omitted. Obeys was a code which a heart held or discarded. Maybe in time she would think of Sandy as a little too rough-hewn, remember that his eyes never quite lost their laughter as surely all men's eyes must do sometimes, not recall that there was special music in the low timber of his voice.

Maybe . . . She said goodbye sweetly, told Philip she would meet his train the next Tuesday. Then she found her compartment on the train and sat staring into the sky. Four more days of being Judy Allen and nobody else.

The stars looked brighter as the train rushed west from New York City. She had read somewhere that people had to travel 50 miles or more away from the artificial glow to see the stars in their clarity.

Maybe Sandy had been remembering the wide spaces of clear blue and dark blue, where there were stars at night, when he talked about his flights to freedom.

She recalled that, in a recent newsreel, she had seen him alighting from his plane with Margaret Gordon. There had been nothing wistful or sad in his gaze. His mouth smiled and the crinkles stayed around his eyes.

"Stop being a nitwit," she commanded herself. "The guy didn't want you. He's proved it, so forget him."

Whereupon a dozen things that he had done, half a dozen attempts to see her, scrambled over the other reasons.

"Maybe he wanted both Peg and me," she murmured, half asleep. "And I do—like—Phil—a lot. I'd trust Phil!"

THERE was excitement at the low, widespread white house with its many wings when she reached it. Spring, soft and sweet and hyacinth-drenched, blew gently through the trees that were coming to flower. Cousins and aunts, already notified, had arrived.

Mrs. Irvington Allen, having been deprived of a scalloped awning and red-carpeted steps at her wedding 25 years before, was determined that her only child should have every thrill that accompanies romantic marriage.

True, Judy had sprung her forthcoming nuptials on the family rather suddenly, but Mrs. Allen was certain that she would manage the wedding easily. The old stone church where the family worshiped was two blocks away. An open church wedding would be just the thing, since her husband would be up for his fifth re-election as common pleas judge pretty soon.

His supporters would enjoy the lilies, the slim white candles, the smile and the pageant of the wedding party.

At first Judge Allen hesitated because he himself had hied his slim, golden-haired bride to the justice of the peace so many years ago. Judy's wedding might make some lost magic up to her though.

When Judy wired she didn't mind and the idea amused Philip, he told his wife to go to town—to engage a caterer, ice cream wedding bells, small silver boxes for the cake which would bring dreams to every guest.

The judge was tall, slim, silver-haired. Already he had met this future son-in-law on occasional visits to New York and had grown fond of him. Here was the man he himself would have picked for Judy.

Therefore, when he saw Judy receive another young man in the low-ceilinged rose and white drawing room and then promptly order him to leave, the day before the wedding, he raised his blue eyes in surprise.

"A gate-crasher," Judy said coolly, wondering if the whole house heard her heart tumbling over and over. "Put him out, please, Dad."

As he turned to obey, her whispered voice interfered. "No, Dad, I don't mean that."

Cranium Crackers

Greer Gleanings

There's a new name on the books of American naval history—that of the U. S. S. Greer, first of our warships to be fired on in World War II. If you've been reading the headlines, you should know the answers to these questions about the Greer.

1. Is the U. S. S. Greer a battleship, destroyer, cruiser, submarine or torpedo boat?
2. When was the Greer built, and for whom is it named?

3. Where was the Greer and on what mission was she proceeding when first attacked?
4. Was the Greer attacked by an airplane, a destroyer, a submarine or a battleship, and what was fired at the U. S. vessel?
5. What did Lieut.-Comdr. Laurence Frost have to do with the Greer case?

Queen Wilhelmina Rules Netherlands in Exile

ENGLAND is the headquarters for many of the refugee crowned heads of Europe and among those present is 61-year-old Queen Wilhelmina, ruling sovereign of the Netherlands in exile.

Germany overran the Netherlands in four days last year. Although the invading troops made a desperate attempt to capture the queen, she fled to London on a British warship, May 13, with her key ministers and others of the royal family.

Unlike most refugee monarchs, Wilhelmina still has something to rule over. Although Holland is occupied, there is still a vast, incredibly rich empire six times as large as the mother country with a population of 60 million people. Wealthiest of her possessions is the Dutch East Indies which honored their beloved queen philatelically in the 1933 stamp above.

Cardinals Put Up Fight For Championship

Strength Of The Prospective World Series Rivals

(This is the first of a series comparing the prospective World Series rivals.)

By Gayle Talbot
NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—On the record, Brooklyn must be conceded to have the best pitching staff of any of the three clubs still concerned with the playing of the world series starting a week from tomorrow at Yankee Stadium.

Whether the Flatbushers actually do have a tonier staff than either their National League rivals, the St. Louis Cardinals, or the American league champions, the Yankees, is something to argue over. The writer, frankly, is inclined to think that the Cardinal corps, with its several crack left handers, might stand a better chance of checking the Yankee sluggers than the Dodgers' right-hand aces would have. But that is a matter of opinion, and there is nothing in the figures to make it stand up.

Boast of Winners
What the book actually shows is that Brooklyn boasts two 21-game winners in Whitlow Wyatt and Kirby Higbe. That is supposed to be the hallmark of a champion—two 20-game winners; or, rather, it was supposed to have been until the Yankees ran away from the American league this year with a set of practically anonymous pitchers. That is, of course, the most amazing thing about this Yankee club. Its two leading pitchers are those old codgers, Red Ruffing and Lefty Gomez, each with 15 victories, and after that the list quickly tails off to Marlin Russo, with 13 wins, and three others, whose names don't come easily to mind, with nine apiece.

The Cardinals, by a truly remarkable coincidence, are fighting Brooklyn right to the last gasp with a staff almost as "aceless" as that of the Yankees. They have a couple of 17-game winners in Ernie White and Lon Warneke, a 13-gamer in Mort Cooper, a 11-gamer in Harry Gumbert and a back-yard full of brilliant youngsters.

So Higbe and Wyatt, until something drastic happens to them to prove the contrary, will have to be voted the most likely to succeed in their world series starts. If Brooklyn gets in, the veteran Wyatt virtually is a cinch to face the Yanks in the opener, and he can be counted upon to give them a rattle. Baseball men are not so sure about young Higbe, judging by his recent form.

Conjecture on Pitchers
There's absolutely no telling what pitcher will start any contest for the Yankees, though the consensus favors Ruffing to lead off if he is free of aches and pains next Wednesday. He and Wyatt would make an interesting battle. Ernie White, a southpaw, would be the logical starter for St. Louis, in view of the popular theory that the Yankees are allergic to lefties.

One of the more dramatic moments of the series is certain to come when the Goofy Senor Gomez toes the rubber for the Yankees seeking his seventh world series victory. Some observers wouldn't be surprised to see the crafty Castilian start the second contest. He still is a lot of pitcher for about seven innings, and he has Johnny Murphy, the best relief man in the business, to finish up for him.

Behind Higbe and Wyatt (who, by the way, outclass their Yankee opponents in the matter of complete games pitched and in strikeouts), the Dodgers have a pair of good batters in Curt Davis and Fred Fitzsimmons. Fitz's knuckler still can be very exasperating. Also, there is the veteran Johnny Allen, who has pitched some remarkable ball since the Dodgers rescued him from the bone yard, and who could be counted upon to pitch his arm off against the Yankees. They once traded him to Cleveland strictly for personal reasons, and Allen has the memory of an elephant.

In giving Brooklyn the pitching vote, it probably would be wise to point out that rival clubs of the American league insist that the Yankees have much better hurling than the record indicates. In fact, they maintain that it was pitching and fielding that enabled them to swamp the league, rather than slugging.

Now where were we? Maybe we had better discuss catching, where a man is on comparatively safe ground.

Bill Dickey likely will catch every game for the Yankees, and that tells the story. Bill isn't the great star he once was, but players even of rival clubs admit ungrudgingly that he's still the best all-around receiver in the business. He doesn't hit as often as he used to, but he still clouts that long ball now and then.

Mickey Owen of Brooklyn and Gus Mancuso of the Cards are fine receivers, and Mancuso is particularly good at handling young pitchers, but neither of them can hit a lick.

Dodgers Shutout Phillies

Curt Davis Puts Brooklyn 1 1/2 Games Ahead Of Idle Cards With Curve Balling

By TED MEIER

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Curt Davis curve-balled the Phillies into submission, 5 to 0, today, to put the Brooklyn Dodgers 1 1/2 games ahead of the idle St. Louis Cardinals in the red hot National league pennant race.

While Davis kept six Philly hits well scattered and did not permit any enemy runner to reach third, the Dodgers jumped on Frank Melton for four big runs in the sixth and coasted in with an easy shutout victory.

A crowd of 8,434, making a three-day total of 62,147, saw the Dodgers finish the weekend series with a 4-games to one edge and chalk up their 17th victory in 20 starts against the Phils this season.

With today's victory, the Dodgers have only four games left to play in the rapidly fading season. They take tomorrow off, play single games Wednesday and Thursday in Boston, loaf Friday and wind up Saturday and Sunday at home against the Phils. The Cards, idle today, still have six games to go. They tangle with the Pirates in a doubleheader at Pittsburgh tomorrow, play single games with the Bucs Wednesday and Thursday, take off Friday and wind up against the Cubs at Chicago Saturday and Sunday.

Phils Protest
About the only excitement today, other than when eight Brooklyn players batted in that big sixth, came in the second inning when the Phils protested that Pee Wee Reese's single over third which scored Ducky Medwick with the first Dodger tally, had been foul.

The Phils lost the argument, of course, but the dispute led to Heinie Mueller, utility infielder, being chased off the Phils' bench by Umpire Beans Reardon in the bottom half of the inning.

Medwick was on third by virtue of his two-bagger and Cookie Lavagetto's infield out when Reese came to bat. Merrill May fielded Pee Wee's tap near the bag and insisted it was in foul territory. Umpire Jocko Conlan saw it otherwise, although May, aided by Catcher Ben Warren, beefed vigorously.

Features at Spectacular Horse Show

With scores of blueblooded horses from all parts of the country entered, the 1941 St. Louis National Horse Show will open at the St. Louis Arena, 5700 Oakland avenue, Saturday, September 27 and continue through October 4. For the second consecutive year net proceeds will be given to the St. Louis Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children. The number of entries this year include every leading stable in the nation and establish a new record—exceeding 400—pointing to the $21,500 in prize money, the largest amount ever distributed as prize money at the St. Louis show. The number of advance entries is responsible for extending the length of the show to include seven nightly performances, three matinees—the largest show in the 45-year history of the event.

Who's Chasing Who In St. Louis-Brooklyn NL Pennant Race

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

The Brooklyn Dodgers are just a little bit nearer the National league pennant today (Tuesday) after tripping the Phillies, 5 to 0, to move a game and a half in front of the second-place St. Louis Cardinals.

This victory came yesterday and left the Brooklyn with four games to go. They are idle today.

After taking yesterday off, the Cards, meantime, still have six outings left on their program for the season's final week, beginning with a doubleheader at Pittsburgh today.

As a result of the Dodgers' win yesterday, the standings look like this:

	Won	Lost	Pct.	Behind	To Play
Brooklyn	97	53	.647	—	4
St. Louis	94	53	.639	1 1/2	6

The remaining schedules:
Brooklyn—Sept. 23 open, 24-25 at Boston, 26 open, 27-28 Philadelphia.
St. Louis—Sept. 23 at Pittsburgh (2), 24-25 at Pittsburgh, 26 open, 27-28 at Chicago.
